

NATIONAL SEATING & MOBILITY NAMED PREFERRED CRT AND HOME ACCESS PROVIDER FOR PRIME HEALTH SERVICES NATIONAL NETWORK

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (July 24, 2020) — National Seating & Mobility (NSM), the premiere provider of complex rehabilitation technology (CRT), mobility and accessibility solutions in North America, has announced a contractual relationship with Prime Health Services (Prime Health), a nationally-recognized managed care company specializing in preferred provider networks. The agreement designates NSM as a preferred CRT and home access provider for the Prime Health Services network providing workers' compensation, auto, and group health solutions for insurance carriers, third-party administrators (TPAs), self-insureds, and governmental entities.

"NSM and Prime Health share a longstanding commitment to client-centric operations delivering innovative, technology-driven solutions to those we serve," said Bill Mixon, NSM CEO. "We are proud to partner with this experienced organization and look forward to serving as a trusted resource for CRT and access solutions for Prime's carriers, adjusters and case managers across the nation."

Prime Health supports workers' compensation, auto, and group health insurance plans/carriers and self-insured employers with national network access and provider contracting/pricing functions to most of the major insurance carriers, TPAs, and bill review platforms within the workers' compensation industry. The new relationship authorizes NSM branches nationwide as approved and in-network.

"Prime Health Services is pleased to announce NSM is now a preferred provider in our national PPO network," states Todd Hurt, Executive Vice President of Network Development. "Adding a nationwide provider offering products and services to meet mobility and accessibility needs, no matter the complexity, allows our clients the ability to access care to move through life with confidence."
